THE TRIAL OF MISS LE BLANC.

The Le Blanc murder trial in Cambridge, Mass., yesterday was a long-distance duel by legal methods between the youthful defendant, Hattie Le Blanc, and Mrs. Lillian Glover, the widow of the Waltham laundryman. The defense directed all its shaft at the widow in marshaling its witnesses and evidence, while the prosecution sought to turn them in the direction of the little Cape Breton servant girl.

Nearly a dozen men and women, who knew the Glover family and Hattie more or less intimately, were on the witness stand yesterday. Their testimony tended to show that Glover was persistent in his attentions to women; that his wife became so angry on many occasions that she was heard to say more than once that she would like to kill him, and that she applied indecent epithets to her husband.

Thomas J. Coffey, formerly a clerk in a Boston sporting goods house, who said the revolver that was used in the shooting, said that a woman bought it, but when Hattie Le Blanc was led past him he said she was not the woman.

When cross-examined by District Attorney Higgins, Coffey said that he attended the Glover trial hearing and looked at a woman who was pointed out to him as Mrs. Lillian M. Glover. He could not identify her as the person to whom he sold the revolver, inasmuch as she was veiled at that time.

Mrs. Alma M. Roche, said that she heard Mrs. Glover say eight years ago that she would like to kill her husband. That Hattie Le Blanc did not take the stand in her own behalf was announced yesterday by her leading counsel, Mr. Johnson.

The court was then given testimony of an unprintable nature. The women in the room—and there were many of them—covered their faces, but few, if any, left their seats. This was when J. Harold Gardner, who was employed in Glover's laundry for seven years, testified about conversations he had with Mrs. Glover previous to her husband's death.

Gardner told of indecent epithets that Mrs. Glover applied to her husband when speaking of him to the witness, and he said that Mrs. Glover told him that Glover was keeping company with other women.

On one occasion Mrs. Glover, pointing to Hattie, who stood nearby, said: "There is a girl that will fix him."

Mr. Higgins cross-examined Gardner. He denied ever having done anything wrong with Hattie. Asked if Mrs. Glover had a bad reputation he said that he did not know. He added that "she had a terrible foul mouth, and called every one by her right name."

The last witness of the day, Mrs. Alma M. Roche, of Somerville, who was employed at the Glover home about eight years ago, was asked if she ever heard Mrs. Glover say anything about her husband. She said she did not care to repeat it, as it was very vulgar. Witness said that once she heard Mrs. Glover say that she would kill her husband.

A sprained ankle will usually disable the injured person for three or four weeks. This is due to lack of proper treatment. When Chamberlain's Liniment is applied a cure may be effected in three or four days. This liniment is one of the best and most remarkable preparations in use. Sold by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

ANOTHER GERMAN SCANDAL.

A Berlin cable to the New York World says in part:

"Germany stands on the brink of a scandal compared to which Maximilian Haidin's revelations of the 'Knights of the Round Table' are tame. 'Some of the most powerful families in Germany are shaking with apprehension lest Signora Maria Tarragona, a Spanish dancer, not prevented from publishing her memoirs. She threatens to expose incidents in the private lives of members of one of Germany's reigning families, of several officers of the crown, and of other prominent men. Signora Tarragona makes these threats in deadly earnest, and will carry them out—unless the police leave her in peace.

"The senora is 29 years old, and most fascinating. Her first protector was an American, who made his tremendous fortune in steel. Her extraordinary career began with her meeting with this American steel magnate ten years ago. The German police ransacked her apartment some time ago, and seized letters showing that she had acted as banker to several personages of south Germany. She loaned more than $50,000 in a lump sum to the members of one leading family. Reverting to her wealthy American protector, she said:

"At Monte Carlo my friend from America broke the bank. It was perhaps the most exciting moment of my life, but to him, no. Money was nothing to him, but he was peculiar in many ways. Often he seemed very mean. Once, I remember, he ordered a dinner, which cost $400, and gave the waiter 5 cents as a tip."

WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD

Lady Learned About Cardui. The Woman's Tonic and is Now Enthusiastic in its Praise.

Mount Pleasant, Tenn.—"Cardui is all you claim for it, and more," writes Mrs. M. E. Rail, of this place.

"I was a great sufferer for 2 years and was very weak, but I learned about Cardui, and decided to try it. Now I am in perfect health.

"My daughter, when changing into womanhood, got in very bad health. I gave her Cardui and now she enjoys good health.

"Cardui is worth its weight in gold. I recommend it for young and old."

Being composed exclusively of harmless vegetable ingredients, with a mild and gentle medicinal action, Cardui is the best medicine for weak, sick girls and women.

It has no harsh, powerful, near-poisonous action, like some of the strong minerals and drugs, but helps nature to perform a cure in a natural easy way.

Try Cardui.

N. E. Write for Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chamberlain Medicine Co., Canton, Mass., for Cardui Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

EXPLOSION OF DYNAMITE.

David D. Addlesberger, foreman of the dynamite gang working on the extension of the Chambersburg, Greenacres and Waynesboro Street Railway Company, between Pen-Mar and Blue Ridge Summit, Pa., had a miraculous escape from instant death yesterday evening at 4:15 o'clock, near Pen-Mar, when 25 sticks of dynamite and 50 caps prematurely exploded.

Mr. Addlesberger was standing about seven feet from a fire near which the dynamite was being thawed out when the explosion went off and threw him about eight feet into the air, tearing all his clothing from his body.

Both lower limbs were cut by gravel, dirt and powder, much of which was blown into the flesh and will have to be removed by operations. There is also a slight cut in one ear, the only injury above the waist. Although the hat was torn into strips the head was not injured.

Eight other persons about 25 feet away from the explosion were thrown on their faces.

The peculiar properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have been thoroughly tested during epidemics of influenza, and when it was taken in time we have not heard of a single case of pneumonia. Sold by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

BALTIMORE'S SEGREGATION ACT.

An ordinance, the purpose of which is to bring about the segregation of negro residents of Baltimore, passed the second branch of the city council of that city last night, it having already been favorably acted upon by the first branch.

Mayor Mahool, it is said, will sign it as soon as he has satisfied himself that it is in legal form.

It is probable that the ordinance will find its way at an early date into the courts as some doubt has been raised as to its constitutionality.

The West ordinance, as it is known, owes its existence to the fact that negro families have lately moved into houses on McCulloch and other streets heretofore inhabited exclusively by white persons.

Under the terms of the ordinance, after it has been signed by the mayor, it will be unlawful for negroes to move into any block in the city in which at the time a majority of the houses are tenanted by white persons, and for white persons to move into any house in a block in which a majority of the residences are occupied by negroes.

When a cold becomes settled in the system, it will take several days' treatment to cure it, and the best remedy to use is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will cure quicker than any other, and also leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. Sold by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

If you are suffering from biliousness, constipation, indigestion, chronic headache, invest one cent in a postal card, send to Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines, Iowa, with your name and address plainly on the back, and they will forward you a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Sold by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

Ladies! Combine style with solid comfort. Wear the RED CROSS SHOE, to be had only at our store. J. A. Marshall & Bro., 422 King street.
